MARKET REVIEW.

FLOUR—This market was still very slow and holders found it difficult to sell any grade without allowing a considerable reduction in prices. The better grades of winters and the finer family springs were selling in a small way to the city trade and at fair rutes, but with all shipping grades very dull and nearly unsalable. Rye Flour slow at $31093 25 per brl. Buckwheat Flour unsalable. Bran in good request at firm prices. We quote:

SPRING WHEAT—This market was rather active to-day, and firmer early, but afterwards the advance was partially lost, gilt edge No. 2 clocking 46 higher than yesterday, and steller April unchanged. Advices from abroad were, in the main, favorable, Liverpool being steady, and cargoes off coast more firmly held, while New York, though quiet, was quoted 46 better; this, with the light receipts brought out quiet an active speculative business, and though prices fluctuated somewhat, the early tone was buillish, but then fell off and closed weak. At the opening the feeling was somewhat unsettled, at 46 50 over the closing on regular board yesterday, advanced 56, but the advance was afterward slost, then railled 36, again fell off, then discreased and closed weak. Regular cash or March ruled quiet at about 36 60 over April, and closed at $1 08. No. 3 wold fairly at $1 02.

OATS—Were newlected and slow, prices being quoted as firm for all grades, attill with so little doing that hardly market rates could be obtained. No 2 cash was nominally about 24%@25%c, while car lots of fresh receipts are taken to the sample market and going off lively on order account, at better prices than can be obtained in store for the same grades.

The deal was very largely speculative, though a fair shipping inquiry existed, but holde a of product were not anxious sellers unless at prices generally above the limits of buyers' orders, hence there was comparatively light trading for immediate delivery. Full outside prices of the day were not maintained at the close, but a fair appreciation was established over yesterday.

PORK—Was active and stronger, selling 174c per bri above the outside figure reached on 'Change yesterday, and though ruled somewhat irregular and the full advance was not maintained to the close, was generally a firm market. A fair investment demand existed, and it was intimated that the property was getting around into strong hands. This made the shorts nervous, and they covered quite freely.
