HUGH B. SMITH.

The many deeds of daring and heroism—thrilling rescue and hair-raising U-boat attacks, in which the U. S. submarine chaser Seneca, participated from the Mediterranean to the North Sea, furnishes one of the most interesting chapters of the entire World War. The price that Hugh B. Smith, warrant officer on the Seneca, paid for his gallant part in these hazardous encounters, was a nervous system shattered that he broke down completely. "What I saw and went through," said Mr. Smith, "would leave its mark on any man. For two full years my nerves were at high tension all the time. "When I got back to God's country, the reaction set in and I broke down completely. I was very nervous and irritable, had no appetite and could not sleep. I felt about fifteen pounds under weight, all of which made me realize some thing must be done. "I resigned from the Navy, but soon found out new environment and duties made no improvement in my physical condition. "Finally a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and after taking six or eight bottles of Tanlac had gained fifteen pounds, was back to my normal weight, and felt completely recovered. Tanlac was a life-saver to me, and I heartily endorse it. "Mr. Smith is branch manager for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., at 201 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., and resides at 435 Westervelt Ave., Staten Island.
